

PRAYER DURING THE DAY FOR OCTOBER 2022

Text in bold may be said by all, if saying it with others.

O God, make speed to save us. O Lord, make haste to help us.
Old and young together, let them praise the name of the Lord
For God's name alone is uplifted; his glory is above earth and heaven.

Psalm 148.13

PRAISE

A hymn, song, poem, freeform praise or

Most High, all powerful, good Lord,*
to you be praise, glory, honor and all blessing.
Only to you, Most High, do they belong*
and no one is worthy to call upon your name.
May you be praised, my Lord, with all your creatures, especially brother sun,*
through whom you lighten the day for us.
He is beautiful and radiant with great splendor;*
he signifies you, O Most High.
Be praised, my Lord, for sister moon
and the stars:*
clear and precious and lovely,
they are formed in heaven.
Be praised, my Lord, for brother wind
and by air and clouds, clear skies
and all weathers,*
by which you give sustenance to your creatures.
Be praised, my Lord, for sister water,*
who is very useful and humble and precious and pure.
Be praised, my Lord, for brother fire,
by whom the night is illumined for us:*

he is beautiful and cheerful,
full of power and strength.
Be praised, my Lord, for sister, our mother earth,
who sustains and governs us*
and produces diverse fruits
and colored flowers and grass.
Be praised, my Lord,
by all those who forgive for love of you*
and who bear weakness and tribulation.
Blessed are those who bear them in peace:*
for you, Most High, they will be crowned.
Be praised, my Lord, for our sister,
the death of the body,*
from which no one living is able to flee;
woe to those who are dying in mortal sin.
Blessed are those who are found doing your most holy will,*
for the second death will do them no harm.
Praise and bless my Lord and give him thanks*
and serve him with great humility.

READINGS

Monday

God said, "Let the waters swarm with living things, and let birds fly above the earth up in the dome of the sky." God created the great sea animals and all the tiny living things that swarm in the waters, each according to its kind, and all the winged birds, each according to its kind. God saw how good it was. Then God blessed them: "Be fertile and multiply and fill the waters in the seas, and let the birds multiply on the earth." There was evening and there was morning: the fifth day.

Genesis 1.20-23

Tuesday

The believers devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching, to the community, to their shared meals, and to their prayers. A sense of awe came over everyone. God performed many wonders and signs through the apostles. All the believers were united and shared everything. They would sell pieces of property and possessions and distribute the proceeds to everyone who needed them. Every day, they met together in the temple and ate in their homes. They shared food with gladness and simplicity. They praised God and demonstrated God's goodness to everyone. The Lord added daily to the community those who were being saved.

Acts of the Apostles 2. 42-47

Wednesday

Jesus said to his disciples, "Therefore, I say to you, don't worry about your life, what you will eat, or about your body, what you will wear. There is more to life than food and more to the body than clothing. Consider the ravens: they neither plant nor harvest, they have no silo or barn, yet God feeds them. You are worth so much more than birds! Who among you by worrying can add a single moment to your life? If you can't do such a small thing, why worry about the rest? Notice how the lilies grow. They don't wear themselves out with work, and they don't spin cloth. But I say to you that even Solomon in all his splendor wasn't dressed like one of these. If God dresses grass in the field so beautifully, even though it's alive today and tomorrow it's thrown into the furnace, how much more will God do for you, you people of weak faith! Don't chase after what you will eat and what you will drink. Stop worrying. All the nations of the world long for these things. Your Father knows that you need them. Instead, desire his kingdom and these things will be given to you as well.

Luke 12.22-31

Thursday

The Lord God proclaims: Long ago my people went down to reside in Egypt. Moreover, Assyria has oppressed them without cause. And now what have I here? says the Lord. My people are taken away for nothing. Their rulers wail, says the Lord, and continually all day long my name is despised. Therefore, my people will know my name on that day; I'm the one who promises it; I'm here. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of a messenger who proclaims peace, who brings good news, who proclaims salvation, who says to Zion, "Your God rules!" Listen! Your lookouts lift their voice; they sing out together! Right before their eyes they see the Lord returning to Zion. Break into song together, you ruins of Jerusalem! The Lord has comforted his people and has redeemed Jerusalem.

Isaiah 52.4-9

Friday

We didn't bring anything into the world and so we can't take anything out of it: we'll be happy with food and clothing. But people who are trying to get rich fall into temptation. They are trapped by many stupid and harmful passions that plunge people into ruin and destruction. But as for you, [person] of God, run away from all these things. Instead, pursue righteousness, holy living, faithfulness, love, endurance, and gentleness. Compete in the good fight of faith. Grab hold of eternal life—you were called to it, and you made a good confession of it in the presence of many witnesses.

1 Timothy 6. 7-8, 11-12

Saturday

Now when Jesus saw the crowds, he went up a mountain. He sat down and his disciples came to him. He taught them, saying: “Happy are people who are hopeless, because the kingdom of heaven is theirs. Happy are people who grieve, because they will be made glad. Happy are people who are humble, because they will inherit the earth. Happy are people who are hungry and thirsty for righteousness, because they will be fed until they are full. Happy are people who show mercy, because they will receive mercy. Happy are people who have pure hearts, because they will see God. Happy are people who make peace, because they will be called God’s children. Happy are people whose lives are harassed because they are righteous, because the kingdom of heaven is theirs.

Matthew 5. 1-10

RESPONSE

Silence, study, reading, or song. Then these words from Scripture:

He has told you, human one, what is good and what the Lord requires from you:

to do justice, embrace faithful love, and walk humbly with your God.

Micah 6.8

PRAYERS

Let your prayers be guided by these concerns, and may your heart be led to even more.

Begin by raising up all the names, people, and places for which you have concern.

Let us give thanks to God our Creator for all the gifts so freely bestowed upon us and for the beauty and wonder of your creation, in earth and sky and sea; We thank you, O Lord.

For the richness of the mountains, plains and rivers; We bless you, Lord.

For all that is gracious in the lives of your people; We give praise to you, O Lord.

For all creatures that breathe, and move, and have life; We thank you, Lord.

For the songs of birds and the loveliness of flowers, pumpkins, and trees; We bless you, Lord.

For the trust you have shown in giving into our care; We give praise to you, O Lord.

That we may love and honor all your works, O God; We pray to you, O Lord.

For what else shall we pray this day:

For the Last, Least, Lonely, Dying, Bereaved, the frustrated, those serving on the front lines, for Humility, Bravery, Patience, Listening, and Thanksgiving for the bounty of the earth.

That we may continue to grow in our humble enjoyment of your abundant creation;

To the honor and glory of your name, now and forever, we pray to you, O most high and good Lord. Amen.

Choose one of the following prayers to collect the concerns and thanksgivings:

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace, where there is hatred, let me sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and where there is sadness, joy. O, God, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved as to love; for it is in giving that we receive; it is in pardoning that we are pardoned; and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life. Amen.

Bountiful God of risky love, Jesus of divine courage: to be ready to listen we should know what it's like to be heard; to be good at giving support we should know what it's like to be held. We give thanks that our best relationships not only provide additional strength; they help us practice the skill of being human by being vulnerable. And, therefore, strangely of being more like you. Amen.

Ever-present God of pilgrims who share this journey, God of travelers upon this road with Christ: This path changes us. The conversations we have, and the views we've gained; the hurt we've endured, and the muscles we've trained: they bring us to a new place, and to a newer sense of us. As we unpack the things we've carried and recount the things we've lost, may we marvel again at the journey itself, the gift of walking with others, and your Spirit, journeying along a path that takes us into and beyond ourselves. Amen.

Holy One Lord God of all, of cleared fields, of replenished stores: the season that passes from seeding to harvest does not bring us to our destination. It brings to us all the substance we need to carry ourselves further along. As we look back at how far we have come and see the journey ahead, let us give thanks for our progress and the produce of time, so our growth may continue in your way of Love each day. Amen.

PUMPKIN PATCH PRAYER

O God of Creation, you have blessed us with the changing of the seasons. As we welcome this Pumpkin-tide may the earlier setting of the sun remind us to take time to care for friend and stranger.

May the colors of the gourds and the diversity of their shapes remind us of the beloved-ness of all of the earth and its creatures.

May the mushy pulp and seeds of these pumpkins remind us of how much power and tenderness is inside all of us.

May the harvest from the Navajo fields remind us of the abundance we share and our allegiance with the indigenous peoples of this land.

May the fading of summer sun remind us of your promise that death is temporary, and life is eternal. We praise you and we give thanks to you. In Christ's holy name we pray. Amen.
